

Walter Pharaoh Andrews Coming to Monroe
Saturday at the Head of a Great Caravan.

Potentate Andrews of Yaarab Temple and His "Ship of the Desert."
(By the Official Disseminator of the Sacred Bull.)

And it came to pass that on the eleventh day of the ninth month Ramada 1334 (which being interpreted for the understanding of the unregenerate meaneth July 11, 1916) the temples of the Ancient and Oriental Nobles of the Mystic Shrine were commanded by the Imperial Potentate to assemble at the Masjeed Djama el Kebir, Buffalo, N. Y.

Being of the faith Noble S. Hadashash Green, who travels on the foot-toot as a means of livelihood and lives in the Oasis of Monroe as a matter of preference, became advised of the noble caravan of Yaarab Temple that was to pass through the Oasis of Monroe, and he spoke unto the rulers of the city saying:

"Light up the hookah, ye nobles and others not of the faith, and squat round upon the sacred rug, while I unfold tidings of importance. Behold, on Saturday there passes thro' Monroe a mighty caravan of nobles of the Mystic Shrine, even Yaarab Temple of the Oasis of Atlanta, renowned abroad as having a goat that can out-butt a Seaboard switching engine.

"At the head of this great caravan that pilgrimages to Mecca is a great potentate who has climbed to the high position through merit, and behold: Years ago he sojourned many months in the Oasis of Monroe where he assisted the young to dip deep into the well of knowledge and used a cane on the boys who put tacks on his chair and stood in the corner those damsels who were caught chewing gum;

"Behold, let us make a great feast of roast camel's hump, mosquito eyebrows on toast and the sacred zem, and invite this mighty potentate and his great caravan to tarry in the shade of the Oasis of Monroe for an hour or so. And we will get us one of the boys whom he caned years ago to come him with a gold-headed cane, and mayhap we can gather up enough of the damsels whom he stood in a corner to form an escort to lead his camel down the main street to the home of his mother."

And the wise men of Monroe wagged their heads, stroked their beards, took another puff at hookah and said "let it be done."

Accordingly on Saturday at 6 o'clock in the evening the two great trains bearing Yaarab Temple's caravan to Buffalo will halt in Monroe for an hour and over 300 nobles will participate in the reception tendered by the people of Monroe to their former citizen, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, illustrious Potentate of Yaarab Temple, a member of the Georgia legislature and one of Atlanta's leading lawyers.

The good people of Monroe have arranged a splendid program which will jam the hour's stop with interesting events, but no one can foretell what will happen at a Shrine gathering. The members of Yaarab Temple are justly proud of their distinguished potentate, but one of the peculiar things about Shriners is that the ones they love the most are the ones that are the victims of the biggest jokes. Just what the nobles of Yaarab will do to Walter Pharaoh in his home town in the presence of his old friends is at this time a secret—but it will be a plenty; so don't miss it.

P. S.—Will the prettiest girl in Monroe meet the writer in front of the postoffice at 6:10?

The Marriage of Mr. Thos. Howey.
The Richmond Evening Journal of June 29th, gives the following account of the marriage of Mr. Thomas M. Howey, son of Mrs. Sudie Howie of Monroe, and Miss Lucy Murray Owens, June 28:

Central M. E. church was thronged with a large assemblage of guests last evening at 7 o'clock to witness a marriage of interest, when Miss Lucy Murray, daughter of the late Mr. Joseph L. and Mrs. Mary B. Owens, became the bride of Mr. Thos. M. Howey. The church was decorated in palms, ferns and candles. Music delighted the waiting guests, the Grace Street Baptist quartet rendering "Tales of Hoffman" and "Love's Old Sweet Song." Just before the entrance of the bridal party Mrs. Walter Mercer sang "The End of a Perfect Day." As Lohengrin's pealed forth under the skillful touch of Miss Grace Bolton, a pupil of the bride, the little ribbon girls, Mildred Owens and Marion Robertson entered dressed in white organdy, with yellow ribbons, followed by the groomsmen, Dr. Robert Mitchell, W. W. Friend, Aubrey Bass, H. T. Cobbs, Joe Dorsett and Joseph Owens, who came in couples, alternating with the bridesmaids, Misses Janie Walker, in white crepe meteor, with tunic of corded tulle, Betty Owens, in gold cloth with overdress of tulle; Jennie Gray, white crepe meteor, with tunic of tulle; Cornelia Walker, in gold cloth with overdress of tulle, all carrying asparagus ferns tied with yellow tulle. Then entered the flower girls, Misses Sudie Bobb Burns and Mildred Cheatham, carrying baskets of field daisies and margarets; their dresses were empire gowns of accordion pleated white silk, with butterfly bows of yellow. Miss Grace Owens, the maid of honor, in white satin, with a tunic of tulle trimmed in pearls, carrying an arm bouquet of sun burst roses, entered followed by little Virginia Page Bass, the ring-bearer, in white organdy and yellow ribbons. The bride entered with her uncle, Mr. W. H. Owens, with whom she was given away, meeting the groom and best man, Dr. T. D. Jones, who entered from the chancel in

Pistol Shots Caused the Constable's Watch to Stop, And No News of What It Did to "Fairness."
Correspondence of The Journal

Indian Trail, Route 1, July 4.—The "reportation" of my vicinity will be concise this time on account that much work in the field is holding me spellbound.

On June 23rd Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Presley had a big dish full of roasting cars from his early patch. Hurrah, for Goose Creek. Who can beat that?

Rev. and Mrs. M. D. Preslar recently spent a few days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Helms.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Price has returned home after spending some time with their son-in-law, Mr. Byron Helms, at Alton.

Messrs. Albert Goodson and G. C. Benton have returned from Unionville after a short stay with friends and relatives. They expect to move there in the near future.

Mr. Watt Phifer of Wingate "bugged" over here recently, visiting friends and relatives.

During prayer service Saturday night several pistol shots were fired. I was sitting near a window of the church and plainly heard pistol shots. Constable Pressley's watch became frightened at the tragedy and sultry weather, jumped out of his pocket and broke it's neck and it can't tick any more until he takes it to the tick mender.

Mr. Sam Broom is building a nice cottage for himself and bride.

Miss Cleona Mills was the guest of Miss May Long Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Eliza Lemmond has returned from Charlotte after spending sometime with her sons, Messrs. Jack and Tom Lemmond.

Messrs. J. A. Pressley and W. H. Wooten have malarial fever and chills.

Rev. M. D. L. Preslar said that if he did marry Mr. Tom Price to Miss Rannie Pusser he must have been asleep. In other words, I have been requested to make corrections.

Miss Ethel Mangum of near Rock Hill, presided at the organ in Ebenezer church Saturday and Sunday during services. She was the welcome guest of Miss Ella Helms.

Miss Lula Pressley was the delightful guest of Miss Loma Trull near Unionville Sunday. She reports a nice time.

Misses Lela and Flora Presley and Rena Stegall spent Sunday with Miss Wilma Price.

Mr. Brady Helms was elected superintendent at Benton's Cross Roads in Mr. D. L. Simpson's place. Mr. Simpson resigned.

"Padersky" of Stouts measured our wheat and oat crop last Wednesday. He is now going from place to place with Garmon & Starnes' separator.

Miss Wilma Price was appointed organist at Benton's Cross Roads to fill the vacancy of Miss Evelyn Price. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Helms of Charlotte have returned home after spending sometime with Mr. Helms' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Helms.

Dr. Smith of Monroe is making several visits to his patients in Goose Creek. Mrs. John Howard is quite sick at this writing.

Messrs. R. F. Price and D. L. Simpson and their families have endeared themselves at Benton's Cross Roads so much. We feel keenly the need of their presence if they would just come out once in a while for there is some good in store for them, especially Misses Mattie Simpson and Evelyn Price. There are prizes to be offered in the interest of Mr. H. C. Simpson's class, one for a boy and one for a girl, to whoever says by heart the most verses of the Bible. Contest will begin Sunday the 9th and close Dec. 31, 1916. Girls come one and all, your scribe has made this offer. Boys and girls, be ready with the verses next Sunday when I call your names.

Messrs. R. W. and W. O. Lemmond of Monroe recently visited friends and relatives here.

"Boozy woozy," some of the cider drinkers may get into this effect, few mills are new pressing apples and look out for revival meetings.

Mr. David Furr and family recently visited Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Epps of North Monroe.

Prayer meeting has been changed from Tuesday night to Wednesday night at Benton's Cross Roads.

Violent thunder with heavy wind storm, local rains and hail visited this section recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drake of Midland are visiting friends and relatives here.

A colt of Mr. J. W. Hartsell's got its leg cut over a box bridge while the water was on it. A loose plank was washed away and therefore it fell in the box.—Fairness.

Biliousness and Stomach Trouble.
"Two years ago I suffered from frequent attacks of stomach trouble and biliousness," writes Miss Emma Verbyrke, Lima, Ohio. "I could eat very little food that agreed with me and I became so dizzy and sick at my stomach at times that I had to take hold of something to keep from falling. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets advertised I decided to try them. I improved rapidly." Obtainable everywhere.

WHY ENDURE SUMMER COLDS?
It isn't necessary to have a stuffed head, running nose. To cough your head off as it were. All you need to do is to use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The soothing and healing balsams open the clogged air passages and in a short time you get relief and start on the road to recovery. Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a cough and cold insurance.

My Favorite Song.
The Songs of Old as Furnished
By The Journal's Readers.

Editor's Note—The Journal wishes to print the favorite songs and poems of its readers. Many of our subscribers, especially among the older ones, have scrap books in which they have preserved the songs of their childhood, and many of these will be of interest to the present younger generation. Just mail your favorite song to "The Song Editor of The Journal," and sign your name to it. It will then be published.

Mrs. H. M. Furr of Indian Trail considers "Down by the Valley" as her favorite song. She does for many reasons, but mostly because she and her sister used to sing it together long ago, and the fact that her sister is now dead, makes it even more precious. It follows:

Down by the Valley,
Down by yonder valley
Underneath a hill,
Stands a little cottage
Close beside a mill.

Sweetest birds of morning,
Used to greet the day;
Here we passed the happy
Childhood hours away.

Do you not remember
Brother dear, the spot,
Far above the millstream
On that dear old rock?

How we used to sit
And throw the pebbles down
On that mossy mill roof,
And the cottage brown?

Sweetest flowers springing
In that garden fair,
And their perfume flinging
Into the summer air.

Oh! what pleasant days
They were to you and me,
How their memory fills,
Their hearts with quiet joy.

Now! alas that cottage
Is our home no more,
Others roam the hillside
As we used of yore.

Yet however far away
We chance to roam,
Still our memory lingers
Around that dear old home.

Taking Big Chances.
It is a great risk to travel without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as this preparation cannot be obtained on the trains or steamships. Attacks of bowel complaint are often sudden and very severe, and everyone should go prepared for them. Obtainable everywhere.

About mail order houses. When you order from a mail order house you not only send away the profit which the home merchant should make, but also send away the first cost of the article.

Now, when a thing is made in Monroe and sold in Monroe we keep at home both the cost of the manufacture and the profit of the retailer. Our ice is made right here in Monroe and all the money received for it is kept here and spent here. Any reason to "order on" for ice when you can get a better quality at home for the same price?
